AQUAZONE

Touring Show

If you haven't seen it yet, don't despair as it will be at Princes Quay shopping centre in Hull, until the 4th November. You lucky members in the Hull area. It will also feature at many more shopping centres up and down the country soon so keep your eyes open for adverts in your local papers! We will give you some dates for 1996 in the next issue of Bricks n' Pieces.

This is the 5th touring show and the greatest yet, giving you an in depth (get the joke) view of what can go in the strange and mysterious under water world. In the blue murky depths the Aquanauts are constantly in search of the life giving crystals. Life in this sub-aquatic world is dangerous to say the least, with giant octopuses, man-eating killer sharks, and to make matters worse the scheming, sneaky Aquasharks are waiting around every chunk of coral ready to steal the crystals.

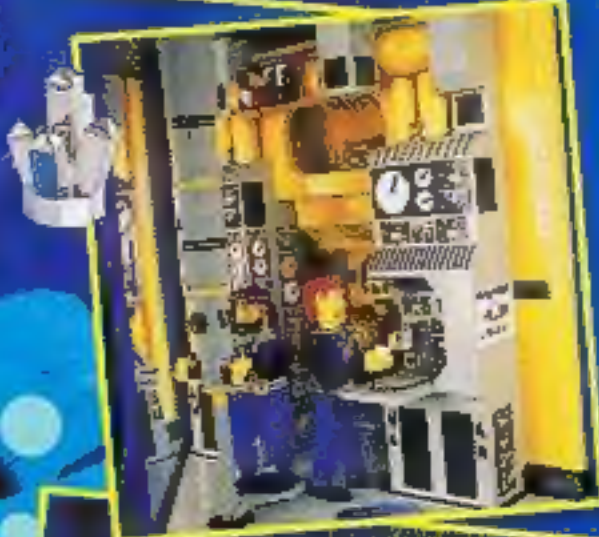

Around the highly advanced sub station Aquadome, the blue water turns darker and darker and descends into the inky blackness of the ocean bed. Who knows what strange and weird creatures live in this dark sub zero silent world? Rumours abound that once the relief crew from DSRV 11 dived too deep and saw huge transparent fish with bulging eyes called lantern fish, Gulper Eels and the hideous Viper fish. They told tales of giant squid that fought with whales, and sharks so big that they could swallow a ship in one gulp!!!!

Of course we all know there are no such things as sea monsters or do we? Can you build a sea monster, or invent a weird fish that might lurk in the depths of the ocean? I'd like to see your photos and will give 2 first prizes of set 6195 Aquadome 7, and 5 runner up prizes of set 6195 DSRV11. Send ONE photo only please to Andy, LEGO Club, Wrexham, LL13 7TQ by 15th December and the lucky winners will hear from me early in the new year. So until next time, Merry Xmas to you all.

WINDSOR

Here is an artist's impression of LEGOLAND Windsor describing the general layout.

1 IMAGINATION CENTRE AND THEATRE

A series of glass pavilions offering the ultimate LEGO building experience for families and for school groups.

2 MAIN ENTRANCE 'THE BEGINNING'

Ticket booths and all the services you would expect: stroller hire, lockers, camera hire, shops and a café with amazing views down into the Park and across the Thames Valley to Windsor Castle and Heathrow.

3 MINILAND

The heart of LEGOLAND shows European cities and villages re-created in astonishing detail from millions of LEGO bricks. Everything from fishing villages to cityscapes of London, Paris and Amsterdam, bustling with rail and road traffic.

4 DUPLO GARDENS

Appealing specially to younger children, here is a Fairy Tale boat ride, puppet theatre and highly ingenious Water Works amongst other attractions.

5 DRIVING SCHOOL

Here every child's dream of driving a car comes true, with traffic and lights, pedestrian crossings and roundabouts to negotiate - and a Driving License to be earned!

6 MY TOWN

A busy harbour town with shops, stunt show, cinema, TV studio, intriguing 'Experience Building' and 'Murché' - the Park's biggest restaurant.

7 WILD WOODS

Adventure area with the biggest rides and treasure trails based on LEGO Pirates and LEGO Castle play themes.

Mums & Dads have a good time too!

This place is BRILLIANT!

I've just passed my Driving Test!

SEA PRINCESS: DATA

Around every corner was another model as detailed as the ones before. Some stood several metres high in the sky using millions of bricks. Others were motorised. You could stand there watching the trains pull up at the station while lorries trundled along the road, boats would be sailing in water and windmills turned as if all by magic!

There was so much to see and do. My favourite ride was the boat trip at Pirateland which had life-size LEGO people and animals, many of which moved, bringing the LEGO to life. Watch out for the crocodile in the water, it snaps!

My imagination was running wild. There were so many ideas to take home. The problem was what should I build first!

It was as I was returning home on the ferry that the idea struck me. Of course, I'll build a ferry just like the one I was sailing on. I remember Legoland had a couple of ferries in their harbour.

While on board, I walked around trying to memorise all I

When I got home, I started building almost immediately. It was great fun deciding on the colour, the name of the ferry, how many floors to build and what to build on each floor working down to the finest details including the omelette in the chef's frying pan!

I used TECHNIC bricks to build the front and back hatch so these can open to let the cars and lorries in through the back hatch and out through the front. I built an outdoor swimming pool and used only the top half of LEGO people so they look like they are in the water and I couldn't forget the diving board. Other rooms include a shop, burger bar, restaurant, medical room, disco, stage, playroom, reception area and 'the bridge' where the captains sits.

I decided to leave one side open so my friends could look in and see all the different rooms. I hope you like it too!

could. When you stand close to an ocean-going ferry you soon realise the size of the boat. They are huge and must be so heavy. It's amazing they float! I knew my model would have to be big to fit in all the cabins, cinemas, shops, cars and lorries just like the real thing.

VIDEO MANIA

Two club members have sent us videos of their models. Samuel Brown from Cleethorpes, designed a Roller Coaster which used our 9 volt system to move the carriages up and down the track, and also Kieran Wynn who gives us an address in Mitcham, Surrey because he lives in Zimbabwe. He designed a Spacecraft which lands on the Moon. This was brilliant, we really enjoyed the sound effects. We did enjoy these videos, congratulations to you both on your excellent achievements.

We are unable to print all the photos you send in, so we have a Wall of Fame for those members who also deserve a special mention.

Well done to all the other members who have sent n photos of their models. We are only sorry we cannot print them all.

Your imagination has been running wild with your LEGO bricks. As you can see we have had to get rid of the captions so that we can feature more of the wonderful models which our members have been building.

We'll done to you all who have sent in photographs which are not featured here or names which have not been mentioned on the wall of fame. There have been hundreds to choose from and the standard is really high.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF SPECIALISED TOURS!

It is now exactly fifteen years offered their first trips to LEGOLAND Billund especially for members of the LEGO Club. At that time there were no direct air services, so the coach tours were in great demand, and terrific fun. Many lasting Club friendships have been forged on these holidays. Some families have returned many times and Specialised Tours have found it fascinating introduced. Air holidays began in 1985 when Maersk Air started direct flights to Billund.

In 1996, there will of course be two LEGOLAND Parks and Specialised Tours will be offering you ways to enjoy both. There will be short breaks in the Windsor area, and London breaks with excursions to the Park. Naturally, they will still continue to offer holidays to for the lucky winner of our competition. The prize includes two nights half board in the Windsor area and a full day at LEGOLAND Windsor. The winner will then travel to Gatwick, to join the Maersk Air flight to Billund for a two night stay at Hotel LEGOLAND, with unlimited admission to LEGOLAND Billund. Travel insurance and £200 spending money is also included in this wonderful prize. WOW!

watching members grow up. They remember the excitement of Helen Williams who, on her sixth trip with her family to LEGOLAND, was finally old enough to take her driving test!

Over the years various holidays, including the very popular farmhouses have been Denmark, for what could be more fun than to experience both LEGOLAND Parks!

To celebrate their fifteenth anniversary, Specialised Tours are giving a superb prize of a trip to both Parks

Holiday Winner Daniel Pearson

I am writing just to (as you know) what a wonderful time we had in LEGOLAND and to enclose a few photos. My Mum and Dad and brother Luke who is 2 1/2 accompanied me.

We had an excellent flight from Gatwick to Billund, it only took 1 hour, 20 minutes and my brother and I were given presents of LEGO bricks on the plane.

We arrived at Hotel LEGOLAND about 11.10 on Monday 24th July and went straight on the Monorail Ride to take a look at what was in the Park. Then we went on the Legatop Ride where we could see for miles and miles, including Billund Airport.

I could not wait for a turn on the Driving School, we had some instructions (in different languages) and off we went. It was great. I passed my Driving Test twice in the holiday and got 2 licences!

My brother Luke especially liked DUPLOLAND and PIRATELAND, the Captain Jelly Racer Ride into the caves was very good complete with crocodiles and sharks and a pirate singing and washing in the waterfall! Then my Dad and I got dizzy on the Pirate Tea Cups Ride!

I also was made Honorary Sheriff of LEGOREDO and had my photo taken in jail and I tasted twistbread with an Indian!

Hotel LEGOLAND was brilliant, the food was excellent on the Children's Buffet, they even had chips shaped like LEGO bricks and every table had a flag on it of a different nationality. My brother Luke did not have time to eat much as he liked the play area with LEGO bricks at one end of the dining room and sandpits on the patio at the other end.

I would like to thank you for choosing me as the winner as we all had a marvellous time and would love to go again!
